Vancouver port labor strike planned for Thursday May 30

The British Columbia Maritime Employers Association (BCMEA) announced a labor lockout effective May 30 at 8:00am. We have been advised that approximately 2,000 workers will commence a strike action if an agreement cannot be reached which will affect the British Columbian ocean port.

Universal Forwarding Overseas (UFO) is closely monitoring all shipments in-route to Vancouver and is making contingency plans with the steamship lines to reroute Cargo if necessary. We will keep you updated on details as they occur.
